Snowglobe Acrostic Poem

How do you get trapped in an ornament so small,
Even if you stood only two feet tall,
Looking for trouble and looking for help,
Pleads for forgiveness would never be dealt,

In case you happen to stumble onto,
My story will surely help those like you...

Tis a season to be jolly,
Ring the bells, for they are calling,
All of the children and all of the men,
Proposed an idea I wanted then,
Perhaps they were dreaming,
Even beauty sleeping,
Deciding how to get the snowglobe,

Poem Continued....

In an instant,
Never that optimistic,
An idea fell on to me,
So, I went into action,
Not looking at a distraction,
On the thought of getting revenge,
Who they thought was weird,
Gawking at my (soft, beautiful) beard,
Learning that wizards were never appraised,
On the count of three, my wand was raised,
Beckoning my servant to trap them and win,
Even soldiers would be trapped in a snowglobe within!
